

Does your child need to have their ears and throat examined?

If your child has a fever, they will very likely have their ears and throat examined.

To know what to expect and how to help, please watch the video:

Healthier Together

Improving the health of babies, children and young people throughout West Yorkshire